<sup>1</sup> Results are preliminary and unaudited and may change prior to the release by the Company of its 2007 results.

<sup>2</sup> Adjusted EBITDA has been calculated in a manner consistent with the Company’s offering memorandum dated October 20, 2006 relating to its 11% Senior Second Lien Notes due 2014, copies of which are available from the Company upon request.

Net sales increased $9.1 million, or 22.5%, in the fourth quarter of 2007, when compared to the fourth quarter of 2006. The increase is primarily attributable to the Continuous Filament Mat (“CFM”) acquisition completed in October 2007, and stronger demand in several end-markets including electronics, defense and construction. On a full year basis, net sales increased by $13.8 million, or 8.1%, to $184.4 million, from $170.6 million in 2006. The increase in net sales is primarily a result of the CFM acquisition and continued strength in the defense, electronics and aerospace markets. Excluding the Porcher equity incentive that was recognized in 2006, sales for the full year 2007 increased $12.2 million, or 7.1% over 2006 results.

Adjusted EBITDA for the fourth quarter of 2007 was $10.2 million, or 20.6% of sales, compared to $10.7 million, or 26.4% of sales, in the comparable period of 2006. A favorable product mix, the impact of the CFM acquisition, and improved manufacturing efficiencies favorably impacted profitability. However, these gains were more than offset by increased labor costs as a result of the Company’s new union agreements that became effective November 1, 2006, non-recurring expenses associated with expanding our manufacturing capacity in support of market demand, and increased selling, general and administrative expense reflecting higher personnel costs associated with our strategic growth initiatives. Compared to the year-ended December 31, 2006, Adjusted EBITDA for the year ended December 31, 2007, decreased $4.1 million to $41.6 million. Improved manufacturing efficiencies, the CFM acquisition, lower energy and repair costs and a favorable product mix were offset by higher labor costs associated with the union agreements referred to above, non-recurring expenses associated with increasing manufacturing capacity and implementing our lean manufacturing initiatives, and higher personnel costs in support of our new product development activities and strategic growth initiatives.
